

ASSOCIATE OF SCIENCE, A.S.

Degree: Your Pathway to a Four-Year Degree

Considering a four-year degree but aren't sure of your major yet? Our Associate of Science (A.S.) degree is designed for students like you. This 60-credit program is an excellent transfer option, providing the first two years of a bachelor's degree right here at Highlands College.

Seamless Transfer to Montana Tech and Beyond

The A.S. degree is a powerful stepping stone. The rigorous curriculum combines general education courses with discipline-specific pathways, ensuring a smooth transition. This allows you to transfer seamlessly to a variety of bachelor's degree programs at Montana Tech or other universities across Montana. The credits you earn are maximized, so you don't lose progress on your academic journey.

Flexible Options and Personalized Guidance

Whether your interests lie in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics), healthcare, or other fields, our A.S. degree provides the flexibility you need. Along the way, you'll collaborate closely with an academic advisor to create a customized curriculum that aligns with your specific academic and career goals.

APPLYING IS EASY AND FREE.

You aren't sitting in a lecture hall. At Highlands College, you don't learn staring at a computer screen. If you go out and do it, you learn a lot better.
