   d. Exchange of academic materials and other related information.
      学术资源和其他相关信息的共享。

2. Each short-term staff visit will require the prior approval and the available of the funding of the receiving university that provides reasonable living accommodations and subsistence for the visitor for the duration of the visit. The international travel costs will be the responsibility of the sending University or of the visitor personally. Staff visits for longer periods, such as advanced study or training, will be arranged on terms to be agreed between the two universities in each specific case.

短期人员访问须预先得到接待学校许可和经费支持，即在访问期间由接待方为短期访问人员提供合理的食宿条件和津贴。国际旅费由派出单位或短期访问者本人负责。对进修或培训等长期人员访问，双方将依据具体情况协商安排。
3. To implement the collaborative activities envisaged under this MOU, representatives of the two universities may meet periodically to negotiate and conclude specific project agreements and programs of cooperation.

4. Research results and intellectual property that have been developed in the course of the collaborative projects under this MOU (“Results”) shall be owned by the university having created them and the other university will be entitled to a non-exclusive, perpetual, royalty-free worldwide license to use the Results for non-commercial internal research and education purposes only. If the Results are created jointly by Tsinghua and Montana Tech, they shall be jointly owned by both universities and each university may freely use and exploit such joint Results at its sole and exclusive discretion. The two universities may enter into inter-institution agreement(s) to administer such joint Results when necessary.

5. Both universities agree to provide to each other a copy of any publication of findings generated in the course of any collaborative projects under this MOU. The copy will be provided in reasonable advance of the intended publication date. The university to whom the copy of the proposed publication is provided may provide comments on the proposed publication and may require that its confidential information be removed from the proposed publication. The faculty and staff from both universities who have been involved in activities resulting in such publication shall be acknowledged according to the applicable conventions for attribution of academic or research contribution.

6. Both universities will consult in relation to and in advance of any publicity arising out of the signing of this MOU. Neither university shall use the logo or trademark of the other university without the prior written consent of the other university.

7. Both universities agree to expeditiously process all requests submitted under this MOU and to make every effort to negotiate for terms that are mutually satisfied in all cases.
